

CROSSROADS OF PARENTING & DIVORCE™

5 STEPS TO PREVENT DIVORCE ABUSE

This seminar, for separated, divorcing, and divorced parents, offers five steps to prevent divorce abuse—a specific type of emotional abuse that divorcing parents cause when, in their anger and bitterness, they lose sight of their child’s needs.

Suggested as an additional resource after taking the Cooperative Coparenting through Separation or Divorce Series. Or as a situation arises once divorce is final. May be combined as a requirement along with the Cooperative Coparenting class through Court order. (Certificate of Completion available)
